

images.MD: Where to Start

Welcome to images.MD, the first continuously updated online encyclopedia of medical images.

Below are a few pages that users can follow to familiarize themselves with the site. These pages can be found via the home page, which is <http://www.images.md>.

---

Register Now/Sign In

This should be the first stop when entering the site. Registration is recommended in order to fully utilize images.MD, and includes use of the My Slides feature and personalization of the site.

Explore Now

Quick and easy pull-down menus allow users to jump straight to the collection or specialty of their choice.

What is iMD?

Explanation of the site contents and the My Slides feature.

Take the iMD Tour

Flash animation tour of the site, showing in detail the tools available to an images.MD subscriber.

Advanced Search

Search using keywords, or by selecting an option from the pull-down menus. Users can search by specialty, collection, or a number of other criteria. Includes keyword search tips to help users refine their search.

My Slides

Allows users to create and manage slidesets containing up to 100 images for personal use. These can be edited at any time, converted to PowerPoint® presentations, and, for sets of 20 images and less, sent to any email address free of charge. Options to create CD-ROMs of larger presentations are also available.

Help

General information and contact details for images.MD.

FAQ

List of questions concerning all aspects of the images.MD site.

Permissions

Details of how to acquire permissions to use images from the site for non-personal use.